

Our Swiss Tax Services

Through our offices in Geneva and Zurich, we advise individuals and companies on Swiss private and corporate as well as cross-border tax matters.

Taxes are an important factor for private individuals, entrepreneurs, companies and executives. Particularly in an international environment, a wide range of tax issues arise. As the matters we work on are cross-border and multi-jurisdictional, we are acutely aware of the increasingly complex cross-border tax and reporting requirements that affect our international clients.

Local expertise, international solutions:

Our Swiss offices enable us to deliver Swiss and international tax and legal services, drawing upon the resources of our expert teams in our London and other international offices where necessary. The multi-disciplinary team specialises in advising wealthy families, family businesses and family offices, as well as corporate groups, asset managers, commodities traders and not for profit organisations on complex cross border issues and structures.

Our core tax services include:

- Tax advice and tax planning for private clients, from relocation to Switzerland until departure.
- Negotiating of lump-sum taxation agreements.
- Tax advice on the taxation of trusts in Switzerland including negotiating tax rulings for the Swiss domiciled Settlor/Beneficiaries.
- Exchange of information as well as administrative and legal assistance procedures.
- Voluntary disclosures.
- Real estate taxes.
- Tax advice for corporations, from incorporation or relocation until liquidation or departure.
- Corporate transactions and restructurings.
- Tax compliance for individuals and corporations.
